“Creating a Culture of Health Through National Policy”
Guest Lecture by Penny Slade-Sawyer

Tuesday, September 15th from 6-7 p.m., with reception following
Michael Hooker Research Center 001 (bottom floor)

How are federal health policies like these created?
How are they carried out in local contexts?

Penny Slade-Sawyer, who formerly served as Assistant
Surgeon General at the US Department of Health and Human Services and Director of the NC Division of Public Health, will share experiences creating national policy and putting it into practice at the state level.

GRITS
Graduate Research and Intervention in The South

SPAG
Science Policy Advocacy Group

Sponsored by GPSF